RECORD OF
SERVICES RENDERED DURING THE GREAT WAR

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SERVICE FLAGS

AT a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Century Association, held 27 November, 1917, it was voted that a service flag should be made, on which should be shown a star for every member of the Association, who during the Great War rendered service to the Government of the United States, or to one of the Allied Powers, either in the Army or Navy of such power, and that this flag should be shown, as was customary during the war, outside of the club building.

It was also voted that a flag should be made whereon should be shown a star for every member of the Association, who during the Great War rendered service, other than military or naval, to the Government of the United States, or to one of the Allied Powers; and in addition to these stars there should also be shown on the same flag a star for every son or daughter or grandchild of any member who in the Great War rendered service to the Government of the United States, or to one of the Allied Powers, either in the Army or Navy of such power, or in a civil capacity.

Alden Sampson and H. Bolton Jones were appointed a Committee to have this in charge. Questionnaires were sent to every member of the Club, and from the returns to these, lists were carefully prepared and displayed in the Club House, and the two flags were shown as directed.

After the war the individual records of members were sent to them for correction, and in many instances letters were written to obtain the fullest possible information, and accuracy of information.

One hundred and thirty-five members were represented by stars on the outside service flag, of whom two were killed and one died in service. On the inside service flag three hundred and ninety-eight members were represented, two hundred and ninety-five sons of members, ninety-one daughters, fifteen grandsons, and one granddaughter; a total of eight hundred stars on the service flag shown within the Club House.

So far as the accuracy of the Report is concerned great pains have been taken to achieve the best possible results. Almost certainly in certain instances the lists will prove to be incomplete and to a certain degree inadequate. When, in spite of every effort to the contrary, such may prove to be the case, your Committee would suggest that a letter containing any necessary corrections or additions be sent to "The Chairman of the Committee on Service Flags," and this material will be carefully preserved for the future historian.

In nearly every instance the Committee has had to rely exclusively upon the information furnished by the members themselves to whom the Questionnaires were sent. In some cases, owing to the modesty and reticence of members, this return has been of meagre sort, so that the amount of space occupied by the record of any particular individual does not necessarily indicate the relative importance of his service. In many instances the record should be more ample in order to do full justice to the subject. Upon the whole, however, the members of the Century have contributed liberally of their time to make this Record of value, and on behalf of the Association, the Committee desires to express very sincere thanks for the cordial coöperation which has been rendered. The Committee also wishes to express its appreciation of the intelligent and efficient aid rendered to the accomplishment of this work by the Librarian, Mr. Charles W. Gordon. He generously gave much of his own time for this purpose.

The publishing of this Record has been delayed by two circumstances: First, the very considerable time necessary to receive answers from all members. Those returns came in very slowly indeed. As soon as the time, in the opinion of the Committee, for publication had arrived, the material was handed to the printer. The second very considerable delay has been the inevitable lapse of time necessary to get the matter through the press. It seems as if there had been unnecessary delay. Your Committee assures you that such is not the case.

The vital character of service in every conceivable kind of war activity, and the very considerable number of those who participated in that service, are very notable indeed, and will doubtless be a source of pride and satisfaction to present and future members of the Century Association.

ALDEN SAMPSON.

H. BOLTON JONES.
